

Eat a Rainbow of Colors

Did You Know....

Eating a variety of fruits and vegetables provides your body with many vitamins and minerals it needs to stay healthy. Fruits and vegetables provide us with nutrients like potassium, fiber, Vitamins A & C, and folate.

Each color helps our body in different ways.

- Red: Red foods help our body to fight cancer. Choose tomatoes, red peppers, or red onions.
- Orange: A great source of Vitamin A is orange foods to keep our eyes healthy. Choose cantaloupe, winter squash, sweet potatoes, carrots and apricots.
- Green: Helps build strong bones and maintain your vision with green foods. Leafy green veggies like kale, spinach, and Swiss chard are great examples.
- Purple: Purple/blue foods are excellent for our brains and help with our memory. Grapes, blackberries, blueberries, and plums are examples.

Choosing a Rainbow of Colors

Practice makes perfect when trying to add a rainbow of colors to your plate.

- Buy in season fruits and veggies. Fruits and veggies taste best when they are in season.
- Have a color challenge. See how many different colors of fruits & veggies that you can include in your meals.
- Fruits and veggies are among the healthiest foods we eat. Choose canned, frozen, fresh, and dried fruits and vegetables when planning your meals.

Take Action!

Try these tips this week to add a rainbow of colors to your meals!

- Pick a color theme of the week. Try as many fruits & veggies of that color as you can find.
- Serve a rainbow dinner. Include every color from the rainbow on the plate at one meal.
- Make an "I Tried It" chart. Write down all of the fruits and veggies you tried this week. Put a smiley face by the ones your family liked.
