

Start the Day with a Healthy Breakfast

Breakfast literally means "breaking the fast". It helps us to reload our energy stores after a long night of not eating. Too often, we start our day with an "empty tank". A healthy breakfast can give us the energy we need to "fuel" our activities throughout the day. Here are three reasons why you should eat breakfast soon after waking up:

- It's a nutritious way to start your day. Breakfast eaters tend to eat less fatty foods, more whole grain foods, and more vitamins and minerals, especially calcium, iron and magnesium.
- It improves our focus. People who eat a healthy breakfast think more clearly, score higher on tests, and feel better than those who skip breakfast.
- Manage your weight. Those who eat breakfast are more likely to maintain a healthy weight.

Here are some healthy breakfast ideas that are easy and high in fiber:

- Cereal. Try the whole grain kinds topped with mixed nuts, dried fruit, or a sliced banana. Use either low fat milk or calcium fortified soy milk.
- Whole grain bread, English muffin or bagel. Try with a little peanut butter, sliced banana, and raisins on top. Sprinkle with cinnamon and serve with a glass of milk!
- Yogurt. Layer with your favorite fruit and whole wheat cereal or granola.
- Oatmeal. Top it with raisins, dried cranberries, sliced bananas, and milk.

Take Action!

Make sure your child has a healthy start to the day with these tips:

- Ensure your child eats breakfast every day this week.
- If there is no time to eat breakfast at home, encourage your child to eat breakfast at school.
- Plan a breakfast together! Include 3 different food groups – be creative!
